"There were so many well-known speakers and great sessions to pick from at the conference this year. I am excited to be able to still benefit from their expertise by participating in the webcasts."
~Mary Beth Bush, 2011 Conference Attendee & past Ohio AEYC Family Child Care Provider of the Year

Ohio AEYC Webcasts are designed for both early childhood professionals and parents seeking information about young children's development and developmentally appropriate practices. Webcasts can be completed for either credit or non-credit. For early childhood professionals needing professional credit, a variety of opportunities are available and can be viewed on the tab on the left column of this page.

Choose from six (6) great quality webcasts on a variety of relevant topics!

Nefertiti Bruce:

Socially Secure, Emotionally Strong; Strategies to Promote Resilience in Young Children

©The Devereux Foundation.

"WOW is all I can think of. Absolutely life changing information for our young children and the adults in their lives."

Holly Elissa Bruno:

Play's the Thing: Using Humor to Build Your Team

"Holly is fantastic! Informative, thought-provoking, and entertaining."

Dan Gartrell:

Guidance with Boys

"Great speaker! Used examples I could relate to...and change/improve my skills as a teacher. Great sense of humor."

Lisa Murphy:

Making Time for Books and Stories & Ooey Gooley® Squishy Plop!

"Lisa Murphy is an amazing speaker who stimulates awareness, deep thinking and laughter!"

Alice Sterling Honig:

Keys to Quality Infant/Toddler Care "I LOVE and appreciate Dr. Honig's frankness. Many presenters skirt around the more taboo behaviors we see in children (and parents!)."

A 3-minute webcast featuring Alice Sterling Honig discussing temperaments in young children is available at www.oeaeyc.org!
